

Short Sale and/or Foreclosure Disclosure

Sellers who are facing foreclosure or considering a short sale should agree to seek independent counsel pertaining to sale of their home, land, real property in the matters of state and federal taxes and legal implications. The sellers should contact the appropriate real estate attorney and/or certified public accountant to obtain qualified counsel relating to implications of selling their real property.